

ACE members' survey

ACE surveys its members annually to assess whether we are meeting our objectives and to identify any areas of improvement. In the current challenging business environment this is even more important. Over the coming year ACE will continue to be the unified voice of the consultancy and engineering sector and add value to our members' business operations. Here ACE provides a brief snapshot of members' perceptions of our activities over the past 12 months compared to the previous year.

2008 headline results

(Previous year ratings in grey, where applicable)

ACE Membership

of members agree membership of ACE delivers value of members do not understand all the benefits they derive from membership of members feel that joining ACE demonstrates that a company provides a high quality and professional service

ACE Representation and Events of members agree ACE represents the voice of the sector of members agree ACE takes action to address important business issues of members said they would be interested in ACE events on developing business opportunities in 2009

ACE Communication

Overall communication and marketing strategy approval rating of members feel they have sufficient communication with ACE to satisfy their business needs

Overall approval rating for modes of ACE communication such as market intelligence and Impact etc