

Laurence Brett

Interim Chief Executive,
Association for Consultancy and Engineering

Laurence brings extensive experience in the buildings and infrastructure professional services sector where he has held a wide range of senior leadership roles covering consulting, design, project and programme management.

He is currently Vice President, Global Capabilities Strategy & Deployment at AECOM in the UK and has previously held a number of senior roles at the ACE member, including on an interim basis while permanent positions were filled.

As well as an extensive track-record in line-management, and enthusiasm for people management, he also mentors groups and individuals both inside and outside of AECOM.

Laurence was previously an active member of the CBI's Infrastructure Board where he helped to develop policy commentary and guidance for the organisation.

He holds an MBA in Construction and Real Estate from the University of Reading, as well as a BSc (Hons) in Quantity Surveying from the University of Portsmouth.
